Staff Support Asked For Planning Group

SAN DIEGO (CNA) --- Its name is Valle de Oro Citizens' Planning Association and on Friday the county planning commission voted to recommend that it be given full county staff support to create a community plan.

Acting Chairman Royal Dieter told the commission in a brief presentation that the name was a compromise adopted by the fledglingly citizens' planning group.

"After all," he said, "there's 14 community names within the planning area."

These include Spring Valley, Casa de Oro, Mt. Helix, La Presa, Grossmont, Jamacha, and the coming planned community of Rancho San Diego.

The boundaries of the area follow the incorporated limits of La Mesa and El Cajon and the Lemon Grove planning area. At places, the boundary touches the city of San Diego.

There was no suspense at the commission hearing as to how the recommendation would go because numerous such plans have been approved by the commission, and the Board of Supervisors.

Planning Director Dan Cherrier said that at the first community meeting on the formation of a committee on Nov. 3 there were 2,200 people in attendance.

Dieter said there would have been more if the meeting place at Monte Vista High School had been bigger.

What has been launched is an intensive planning effort by residents and other interested persons to determine the future of the area.

A new state law known as A. B. 1301 now requires that all zoning be consistent with general plans and community plans are incorporated automatically into the county's general plan.

That means that citizen planning is going to be given an impact as well as a responsibility that it did not have in the past.

No longer will the planning groups be able to operate under the soothing words that the plan is merely a guide to future development.

A. B. 1301, as now written, brings in the new factor.

Local planning officials hope the law will be eased so that planning can be returned to being a guide to zoning, not a hard and fast parcel by parcel rezoning to conform with the plan.

Board OK's Steering Committee

Dr. Robert Sutton, assistant superintendent for educational services of the Lemon Grove School District, presented the names of twelve citizens who will serve on the school district steering committee on goals and objectives to the district's board of trustees Monday night.

Sutton, who will replace retiring superintendent Byron L. Netzley next year, told trustees that the district has met with reasonable success in securing members for the committee, which must be composed of a cross section of the community, including parents of students, minorities, and various economic levels.

The Citizen's advisory committee will have as its main objective to develop goals and objectives for the district. Included in those who have accepted to serve on the committee is Bob Mastny, who works on the educational subcommittee of the Lemon Grove Planning Association.

It is expected that the number on the committee will be near 15, Sutton said. He noted that it is hoped that more Spanish-speaking persons or those with Spanish or Mexican backgrounds will accept membership on the committee.

In other items of note handled by the board, a request for sabbatical leave was approved, trustees announced district observance of "School Bus Safety Week" April 17-24, and a replacement was hired to fill the position of retiring teacher Mrs. Margaret Lemmer.

The sabbatical leave of Mrs. Dorothy Kooyman, an instructor at Lemon Grove Junior High School, was granted. Mrs. Kooyman plans to take her leave during the second semester of next year for graduate study at USIU, as well as travel and research.

Trustees were told that a letter was received from State Superintendent of Schools Wilson Riles announcing Governor Ronald Reagan's endorsement of "School Bus Safety Week", which will be observed nationwide. The district has has an excellent traffic safety record, but national and state figures show an increase in the number of bus accidents in the past few years.

Trustees also approved the hiring of Mrs. Gwendolyn Harris to replace Margaret Lemmer, who retired this month to accept a position with the California Teachers Association. Mrs. Lemmer is a former president of the organization.

Mrs. Harris, a black instructor, was highly recommended for the position by former employers in Louisiana. Her hiring is in accordance with the district's efforts to balance the number of minority employees more closely to the student population.

In routine matters, the board approved application for NDEA Title III-A funds for science equipment, and okayed an annual audit agreement with the firm of Anthony J. Collura, CPA.

TREE PLANT — Monday was the 100th anniversary of Arbor Day, and students at Vista La Mesa School joined in the celebration by planting six trees on the school's lower playground. The idea of planting the trees came about when the school student council began considering an ecology project. It was decided that the school could earn money to buy trees by collecting aluminum cans. As an incentive for students to bring in aluminum, the class which brought the most cans each week was given an award. By Christmas, students had collected $116 worth of cans, and members of the student council decided to purchase the half-dozen Carob trees. In photo, student council president Debbie Corson puts the first shovel-full of soil in the planting operation, assisted by members of the Lemon Grove School District gardening crew.

Dad-Daughter Dinner Planned Monday Night

Five girls who have each sold a total average of $1291 of Camp Fire Girls products during the past nine years will be honored at Camp Fire Girls Dad-Daughter Dinner for the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area April 17. The girls are members of the Encanto Su-Ta-Wa-Ki-Yu Horizon Club and have earned the Golden Pine Award for the ninth year. Their adviser is Mrs. Jarvis Reams.

During this year's Annual Sale the five girls averaged 200 units per girl with nuts and mint sticks. During the Dad-Daughter Dinner at Lemon Grove Junior High, 121 other Camp Fire Girls members will receive "Dimples the Dolphin" as members of double-quota groups. A total of 13 groups in the Lemon Grove-Spring Valley area of Heartland District were double-quota groups.

Robert B. Spaeth, Council Annual Sale Chairman and Chairman of the Family Gifts section of the Camp Fire Development Campaign, will present dolphins to Mrs. Jarvis' group. The Horizon Club members will present the dolphins to the other girls who have earned them. Mrs. Spaeth is dinner chairman and says that the entertainment will feature girl members.

A sixth grade Camp Fire group from Monterey Heights School, led by Mrs. Kenneth Fowler, will perform the "Lighthouse Tragedy," a comedy-farce. A third grade group whose leader is Mrs. William Garrison will perform dances they have learned during the year. Another Horizon Club will lead group singing.

During the evening, Spaeth will discuss the San Diego County Council's $700,000 Development Campaign and the importance of the Family Gifts Division. John Hammond is Heartland District Family Gifts Chairman.

Planners To Meet Tonight

The Lemon Grove Planning Association will meet this evening in the auditorium at Golden Avenue Elementary School, and three items of note will be included in the agenda.

The main portion of the meeting is expected to be spent on the acceptance of goals of the environmental and residential subcommittees. Goals from the subcommittees have been formulated, but have not been discussed and adopted by the executive committee.

A representative of the county will be on hand at the meeting to explain how Federal grants for creating parks can be obtained. The presentation is an important one, as the community master plan for the Lemon Grove Planning area is expected to call for more park space.

Although tempers have cooled down considerably since a general meeting two weeks ago, a great deal of interest will be shown to the county planning department's explanation of local goals which were presented at the general meeting.

At that meeting, the county presented members of the association with the compiled goals of the community, but executive committee and subcommittee members greeted it with disfavor, violently reacting to changes which were made by the county.

Let's Overhaul Tax Laws

Treasury Secretary John B. Connally complained this week that a spot check of income tax returns prepared by tax services showed 97% were fraudulently prepared.

He called it an "incredible performance . . . a rather amazing statistic."

"Obviously, this requires action and we're going to take it," Connally warned.

Where will the sanctions fall? Against taxpayers, you can bet.

The clear and present problem is that Treasurer Secretary Connally refused too see the complicated mess that he and the government have made of tax collecting.

If income tax laws were simple and understandable the problem would resolve itself. Gone also would be the cost of investigative bureaus which are paid for by taxpayers.

Gone, too, would be the ridiculous cost citizens face when they go to "incompetent tax specialists" because the laws have become so complex that it is doubtful that even Mr. Connally understands them.

Mr. Connally should forthwith call for an overhaul of federal income tax laws!

Tax Way to Prosperity?

John Maynard Keynes, a British economist, is the father of the Keynesion theory of deficit financing by government as a way to prosperity.

He would be shocked to see how it is working if he were alive today.

Just as a physician who prescribed a teaspoonful of medicine twice a day would be surprised to see his patients drinking whole bottles at a time.

The Nixon Administration will have rolled up deficits totalling $124 billion during the four years between July 1969 to July 1972 according to a report by the U.S. Press Association. The deficit was a staggering $45 billion in 1971-72 and $36 billion in 1972-73. The profligacy is giving pause to even the most liberal economists and legislators.

It is Keynesianism gone haywire!

Economists admit it will aid those who invest in stocks and bonds, real estate, and even purchasers of stamps, coins, clothing, furniture, autos and other commodities that could be expected to rise with the inevitable inflation.

The President estimates that the national debt at the end of the next fiscal year—July 1973—will be $493.2 billion, with an annual interest charge of around $25 billion.

With the people already groaning under the heaviest peacetime tax load in our history (the Vietnamese War is no longer a serious financial burden), the possibility of a "value added tax", which is in reality a Government sales tax, becomes a new hazard.

The people's money is as important as many of the issues that are being blown up out of proportion by some of the presidential candidates today.

But this an issue that cannot be swept under the rug! Citizens have a right to know why billions more in government outlays are being proposed in the guaranteed annual income and other welfare projects with the budget already so dangerously out of balance that our give-away form of government is in danger of collapsing into a communistic heap.

La Mesa Councilman Unseated; El Cajon Mayor in Close Race

Paul Fordham, a Savings and Loan executive, was elected to La Mesa City Council in Tuesday's election, defeating incumbent Richard Cosgriff. Another incumbent, George F. Bailey, was re-elected.

Five candidates ran for the two seats. Margaret Reilly, City Clerk, was unopposed.

Unofficially, the 39 precincts produced these totals.

Paul F. Fordham, 3,486
George F. Bailey, 2,393
Richard Cosgriff 2,247
Robert Freeland 1,797
Judy Evans 1,406
Margaret Reilly, Clerk, 4,788

In El Cajon Mayor James Snapp was re-elected by a narrow margin over Paul Kress. The vote was 2,167 to 2,054.

For a single Council seat Bob Cornett, was re-elected. The vote: Cornett 2,011; Earl Anderson 1,438 and Wiley Davis 730.

Learn Spanish the Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

Children's stories can be an aid in learning Spanish. They are universally popular and offer many opportunities for association with ideas and concepts which are already known. For example, when we are reminded of the children's story about "osos" (bears) then we tend to associate the number "tres" (three) to describe the bears or think "tres osos." The title of the story uses the article "los" (the) to describe completely "Los Tres Osos" (The Three Bears).

We may visualize the members of the Oso family with ease because of our prior knowledge of the names of the members in English. Their Spanish names are "Papa Oso" (Papa Bear), "Mama Oso" (Mama Bear), and "Nene Oso" (Baby Bear). The final character in the story is "Rizos de Oro." And from your prior knowledge of the story you would probably have already guessed that "Rizos de Oro" is the Spanish name for "Goldie Locks."

As you will recall, "Mama Osa" prepared a "potaje" (pottage). While the "potaje" (pronounced "poh-TAH-heh") was cooling, the "tres osos" took a walk. "Rizos de Oro" (Goldie Locks) arrived at their house while they were away and ate "el potaje" (the pottage). She also sat in their chairs. The chairs in the Spanish version have different names which aid in describing their size. "Papa Oso" had a "sillon" which means "large chair." "Mama Osa" used a "silla" (medium size chair) and "Nene Oso," of course, had a "sillita" (a little chair).

"Rizos de Oro" slept in the "cama" (bed) of "El Nene Oso." Then the "Osos" returned they found "Rizos de Oro" asleep in the "cama." When she saw the bears she became frightened and ran out of the house. Even the shouts of the "Tres Osos" telling her "Queremos ser su amigo." (We want to be your friend.) could not bring her back.

You may enjoy practicing the following phrases that relate to and enhance this charming story. Hear a recorded voice say the same phrases in practice form when you dial 276-2762 on your telephone.

IMPORTANT PHRASES:
Say "Cuantos osos son?" (koo-AHN-tohs OH-sohs sohn)
for "How many bears are there?"
Say "Son tres osos." (sohn trehs OH-sohs)
for "There are three bears."
Say "Que comian?" (keh koh-MEE-ahn)
for "What did they eat?"
Say "Comian potaje." (koh-MEE-ahn po-TAH-heh)
for "They ate pottage."
Say "Durmeo Rizos de Oro?" (doo-rr-mee-OH REES-ohs deh OH-roh)
for "Did Goldie Locks sleep?"
Say "Durmeo en al cama." (doo-rr-mee-OH ehn lah KAH-mah)

Three Qualify For Free Trip To Germany

Three Monte Vista High School students became eligible for consideration for a free trip to Germany as a result of their scores on the National High School German Examination, given between February 21 and March 4.

Johanna Weiner, Barbara Thornburgh, and Jan Williams all ranked above the 90th percentile, with scores of 99, 94, and 92, respectively.

Monte Vista High School had 18 students participating in the contest. With the exception of one, all participants ranked above the 50th percentile. Students were tested only at the second, third, and fourth year levels of German. Contest rules specified that a student must score at least in the 90th percentile in order to be eligible for consideration for a free trp to Germany.

All three girls who placed above the 90th percentile are second year German students in Mr. Weill's German II class. "These girls have accomplished a truly outstanding achievement and deserve the highest praise for their academic excellence," said Weill.

Almost 17,000 students participated in this year's National Testing Program for High School Students of German, which is sponsored by the American Association of Teachers of German.

Pools have been donated by local residents for the courses which begin in July but there is a shortage of instructors. Registration has been limited for the past two years because of a similar lack of instructors.

At Mt. Vernon, 460 children have passed the requirements for the course since 1962. Last year, ten children received water safety certificates.

Persons interested in obtaining information concerning instructing the children can contact Mrs. Lopez at 463-3075.

HOOT 'N' NANNY — Bank of America last week held a "hoot'n'nanny" to publicize the bank's new slogan "give a hoot". Gene Pierson, manager of the Sweetwater-Jamacha branch in Spring Valley, decided to leave the ranch-type fencing, bales of hay, and old fashioned posters in the bank this week. It didn't make the lines move any faster, Pierson admitted, but it made the wait more pleasant.

The vaccinations, which are a must for dogs over four months old in the county, cost $1.50 per pooch, and must be renewed every other year. The price represents a considerable savings over what most private vets ordinarily charge.
Dr. McFarland, who is on hand each Thursday afternoon at the Animal Shelter from 2 to 4 p.m., has vaccinated about a quarter of a million dogs in his 20-year career, and reports that he rarely gets nipped. Once, several years ago, he said, he did get bitten severely and had to recover for several days before returning to work.

'Massachusetts' Is College Film

All the color, history and beauty of Massachusetts will be displayed when famed film lecturer William Crowley personally narrates his film "Massachusetts," at 3 p.m., Saturday, in the Fine Arts Lecture Hall at Grossmont College.

A highlight of the film will be an old fashioned clam bake at the Bass River Rod and Gun Club, Cape Cod's big event each August. The film closes with a sequence based on the poem "The Barefoot Boy," by Whittier.

The public is invited to view "Massachusetts," its history, its scenery and its life. The price of admission is $1 with tickets available at the door.

F&G Assoc. To Tell Where the Fish Are

Fresh water fishing opportunities at the various City and County lakes will be completely aired at the regular monthly meeting of the San Diego County Fish and Game Association tonight, when experts representing each of the important impoundments will answer questions fired their way by sportsmen.

The meeting is scheduled to be held in the Balboa Park War Memorial Building, at 7:30, and is open to the public.

L. A. Freymann will serve as program moderator for the Association, and the panel of experts will include the following: Jack Ford, Lake Henshaw; Orville Ball, Lake Cuyamaca; Paul Zimmerman, Lake Jennings; Russ Dover, Santee Lakes; Ted Mastain, Lake Wohlford, and Harry Atkinson, City Lakes.

Biologists Larry Bottroff and Mike Lembeck, conducting fish planting programs at the lakes for the State, also are expected to be on hand to tell of the progress being made.

The program also will include films pertaining to fresh water angling.

Contract Is Awarded

Minnesota Asphalt, Inc., of El Cajon was awarded a contract for improvement of State Highway 94 in Jamul recently, it was announced by State Director of Public Works James A. Moe.

The contract calls for resurfacing 2.3 miles of the two-lane highway between 0.3 miles west and 2 miles east of Melody rd. within 30 days.

Traffic Tickets Total 550 A Day In San Diego

The San Diego Police Department announced its Traffic Warning program is reaching record proportions.

Chief of Police R. L. Hoobler said warnings for equipment deficiencies and minor moving violations are being written at a rate of 550 per day. This means an estimated 200,000 will be written during 1972.

"Most drivers have their equipment fixed right away," Hoobler said. "They want their cars safe, and want to comply with the law. A number of persons, however, neglect to have their corrections verified and fail to return the form to us until well after the 15-day waiting period. Many drivers fail to return the copy at all. Traffic Warnings are just that," Hoobler added. "Warnings, but if issued for equipment violations they must be returned to the Department within 15 days with proof of correction or they are forwarded for prosecution through Court as Traffic Citations.

Once this step is reached, the driver must appeal to the court. Notifying the Police Department at this time that the correction has been made will not prevent the issuance of a Notice to Appear. We must have the certification within the prescribed time."

Requests for extensions beyond the 15-day period cannot be honored, according to Hoobler, because of the nature of the warnings. "The warning was issued because a deficiency already existed. The violation had occurred. The warning system is a means of giving a reasonable time to return proof of repairs. It is not a license to continue driving with faulty or unsafe vehicles."

Youth Center Needs Furniture And Volunteers as Summer Nears

There is still the need for a usable pool table at the Lemon Grove Youth Center, director Dale Wood said this week.

A couple of local residents offered tables that were beyond repair but a functional one is needed.

The Youth Center's operation is sponsored by a group of generous people who want to give young teenagers a choice of activities rather than street meetings with the resultant hazards. These problems increase with summer.

The Center is on School lane opposite Golden Avenue school. There the youngsters meet with their peers under the benign direction of Director Wood and his college student aides. At the Center youngsters are encouraged to toss baseballs, basketballs and footballs. They also like pool and paddleball. But mostly they like to sit and talk about their problems with each other. They are also encouraged to take jobs. Some do.

This newspaper undertook a program of fund raising last month by which each subscription obtained by a professional salesperson would result in a fifty cent donation to the Center Association. Last week's contribution to the fund was $22. In addition, $8 was given to Wood at the Center under an agreement that $2 is given to the Center for any subscription sold by a Center youngsters — plus another $2 that an anonymous donor puts up to double the ante for the kids' effort.

Wood said this week that material contributions are needed now that the Center is being revitalized as the result of the current campaign.

Furniture Needed

"We need lounge chairs. The three we have are falling apart," he said. "We need a vacuum cleaner. (A donor supplied a rug for the lounge room and it needs regular cleaning.) A popcorn popper, some popcorn and some coffee would also be welcome," he added.

When college vacation comes, he will need aides to replace the counciling students who have been working with him on a voluntary basis.

Verna Quinn, one of the directors of the Center, said that a series of DEFY (Drug Education For Youth) meetings are being held on Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m. at the Center. Interested residents are invited to attend.

Len Farness, another director, said that he is well pleased with the progress at the Center. "We can see the benefits the community is gaining through the Center's operation," he said. Frank Shughrue, a local bank manager, is treasurer of the Association.

The newest list of people who said they wanted to subscribe to the newspaper to aid the Center include the following list. It should be noted that contributions are made in the name of the subscriber only after he has paid his subscription bill which follows his agreement to aid.

This week's list contains 41 names:

New Charger Film Is SD Love Story

Yes, Virginia, there is love in pro football.

It is a love which blooms every Sunday, the love of a community such as San Diego for its team such as the Chargers.

"A Sunday Kind of Love; San Diego and the Chargers" is the name of the new Charger highlight film. It will have its premiere showing Tuesday night at the annual meeting of the Charger Backers at San Diego Stadium's Sports Club.

Produced by NFL Films and directed by former Charger receiver Phil Tuckett, "A Sunday Kind of Love" is a 16-mm color sound film which runs 25 minutes. Special San Diego photography was taken by Harvey Weber. Portions of original music are by Tony Luisi. Narration is by John Facenda.

Stars of the film are San Diego, with its scenic coast and mountains, and the Chargers, who in beautiful San Diego Stadium won six of seven games in 1971 only to lose all seven on the road.

Featured players include All-AFC guard Walt Sweeney, 1971 rookie stars Billy Parks and Mike Montgomery, defensive backs Chris Fletcher and Bryant Salter, who ascended from the Bomb Squad to the First Team, and quarterback John Hadl, Charger MVP and the 1971 National Football League "Man of the Year."

Looking ahead to the 1972 season, the film focuses on Deacon Jones, former all-pro defensive end of the Los Angeles Rams, obtained by the Chargers in an off-season trade.

"A Sunday Kind of Love" is available without charge to all groups of 50 or more persons in San Diego County. Requests should be made at least two weeks in advance and directed to Public Relations Dept., San Diego Chargers, P.O. Box 20666, San Diego 92120.

Surfing Film Due Tuesday

A film on surfing around the world will provide the fare for the next program in the Elation-Creation series presented by the La Mesa Library and Grossmont College's office of community services.

"The Endless Summer," considered by surfing enthusiasts as the all-time great film on this water sport, will be screened at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 18, in the Ben Polak Fine Arts Center, La Mesa.

"The Endless Summer" could be called a documentary, comedy, sports, youth film or surfing film, for it is each and all of these. The audience will follow summer around the world with two young surfers riding the waves of Africa, Australia, New Zealand, Tahiti, Hawaii and California.

Throughout the film, Bruce Brown narrates for high comedy effect and to let the non-surfers in on what is really going on.

The public is invited to enjoy the film and there is no charge for admission.

Faculty Art Show Opens At College

The Grossmont College Art Department opened its annual Faculty All-Media Show Monday in the Griffin Gallery. The show will continue through April 28 and includes painting, sculpture, ceramics and photography, all the work of faculty members.

A feature of the show will be the work of instructors Ron Tatro and Les Lawrence. Their work, titled "California Custom Wave — Paper Works," was conceived last fall. Entry forms were sent to educational organizations throughout the United States and Canada. Recipients were requested to collect one-week's paper work that was received through their mail box at work, school or home and after dating and signing it, forward the entire week's collection to "California Custom Wave Paper Works" in care of Tatro and Lawrence, Grossmont College.

Forty entries were received by Tatro and Lawrence. Entries included 200 job rejection letters, a fur-lined rural mail box stuffed with mail, a box of paper trash, a week's supply of discarded photographs developed by a college photography class and a week's supply of restaurant checks drilled and held together with a large bolt and nut. Although not required for eligibility, all entrants were artists or art instructors and of those who responded by submitting an entry, only one-third followed instructions.

"Most entrants individualized their week's supply of mail with a definite theme. The project put to use the established system of American communications to develop artistic material," Tatro said.

All forty entries in the Tatro-Lawrence project will be displayed in the show. Art work completed by Grossmont College students will be on display in the adjacent student gallery and may be purchased. Viewing hours are from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., Monday through Friday. There is no charge for admission.

Matadors Blast Monarchy After Loss to Highlanders

By Paul Stark

The Mt. Miguel High School baseball team, suffering from the torrid hitting of Helix High star Jim French, lost an 8-2 decision to the Highlanders last week, but evened things later with a 5-1 win over the Monte Vista Monarchs.

On Tuesday, the local team invaded Helix, where Jim French's bases-loaded double in the second inning put the Highlanders in front. Four more Highlanders scored in the fourth inning to make the score 7-0.

Mt. Miguel got on the scoreboard in the fourth frame when Mike Bruner hit a two-run double.

On Friday, things went better for the Matadors as Steve Long fashioned a five-hitter and the Miguel bats boomed.

Mt. Miguel was first to get the scoreboard moving in the second inning. Buster Ledesma blooped a double to left field and scored minutes later when Phil Williamson hit a line drive single up the middle. Williamson swiped second base and scored on John Mumaw's single to left to add insurance.

In the fourth inning, Mt. Miguel was at it again. Williamson opened things up with a solid single and scooted around to third on Mumaw's single to left. Paul Schneider brought both baserunners in with a double and scored himself on a Tim Miller single.

Monte Vista, working on sophomore Long, cashed in four singles in the sixth frame to spoil his shutout bid. He nevertheless collected his first loop victory of the season, fanning eight and walking just four.

Tomorrow the Matadors will see more league action when they travel to meet the El Cajon Braves with Long on the mound. On Tuesday, the Matadors will host the Santana Sultans with Pannell on the hill. Both games will start at 3 p.m.

Brown's Supporters Vocally Enthusiastic

More than 300 supporters of Dick Brown for County Supervisor had a chance to become vocally enthusiastic last week at a $60-a-plate banquet at Town & Country Convention Center.

State Senator Clair Burgener was master of ceremonies. Diners head Brown tell of his policies for the County's Second Supervisorial District that will be represented by one of twelve candidates.

Brown promised to end "baronism" by which land barons keep an eye on profits rather than on the quality of living that results from their developments. "Supergovernment cannot solve these problems," he said. "Regional and areawide problems exist and are growing, but state and federal governments are not the agencies to resolve them. They must be solved by people with regional and area experience." He said that he was a candidate with such experience.

"One of the other candidates, at a public meeting, said 'he didn't know what a supervisor does' when a reporter asked the question regarding experience," Brown said.

He chided another candidate who won a court order to have candidates' names appear on the ballot by drawing rather than by alphabet. The complaining candidate then won top position. He had told the court his constitutional rights were being denied by the accident of birth to parents with a name low in the alphabet.

"Perhaps I should charge him with conducting a lottery. The elements of lottery were there. Money was required to enter this drawing. I paid about $400 (filing fee). There is an element of chance. (the drawing) and there is a reward at the end (top position)," Brown said.

Brown said his campaign would be an old-fashioned one with fun and music and a lot of rallies.

Brown is past mayor and present councilman of the City of El Cajon. He lists two dozen civic and governmental agencies in which he is currently active. M.G.

Gulls Playoffs Tonight Weighed by 7 Non-Win Streak

The San Diego Gulls open their Lester Patrick Cup semifinal playoff series against the Denver Spurs tonight at the Sports Arena. Faceoff is at 8 p.m.

The Gulls will meet the Spurs at the Sports Arena again on Saturday night before the series moves to Denver. The league champion Spurs were forced out of their area by a schedule conflict this week, thus the opening games were slated for the Sports Arena.

All playoff games will be broadcast on KFMB radio, 760 on the dial. The Gulls' regular broadcast station, KOGO, has schedule conflicts with San Diego Padres' baseball.

The Gulls have been in the playoffs each of the last five seasons but have lost in the semifinal round each of the four previous seasons.

San Diego had finished third in the WHL each of the past four seasons. A late-season slump eliminated the Gulls from contention for second and third spots and dropped them to their lowest finish since they were seventh in the 1966-67 season.

Entering this series as a definite underdog, the Gulls nevertheless are optimistic about their chances against the Spurs. Denver won the seasonal series by a slim 6-5-3 margin. The Spurs were 4-2-1 on home ice, while the Gulls had a 3-2-2 edge at the Sports Arena.

Following the opening two games at the Sports Arena, the Gulls travel to Denver for games next Tuesday, Wednesday and, if necessary, Saturday. The sixth game, if needed, will be back in San Diego next Sunday, April 23, and if a seventh game is needed, it will be in Denver on Tuesday, April 25.

The Gulls enter this series with a seven-game winless streak. San Diego lost six and tied one in their final seven games of the season to finish with a 32-31-9 record. They failed to match their team high win total of 33, which the team had achieved each of the previous three seasons.

More than 400 fans attended the annual banquet. The Boosters gave each player an engraved watch.

The Gulls named George Swarbrick the team's Most Valuable Player and he received a solid gold watch.

John Miszuk and Jim Cardiff won the Sandy Awards for spirit, determination, and hustle. Orest Kindrachuck was the team's Rookie of the Year. Bob Courcy won the leading scorer and leading goal scorer awards.

Jim Cardiff won additional acclaim Sunday night at Le Baron hotel when the Gulls' Boosters named him Mr. Gull.

'Rosencrantz And Guildenstern' Is Old Globe Play

Two school friends of Hamlet are the central characters in the new production at the Old Globe Theatre in Balboa Park. "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead" will be staged nightly except Monday through April 30. Sunday matinees are scheduled April 16 and April 30.

Playwright Tom Stoppard re-worked the familiar Hamlet story, placing the emphasis on the previous minor characters of Rosencrantz and Guildenstern. Summoned to Elsinore by Claudius to spy on Hamlet, the Prince's former classmates find themselves no match for his brilliance and subtlety.

Guest director Asaad Kelada is staging "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead." The play is the final Old Globe production of the current winter season. Kelada recently directed the Off-Broadway Theatre production of "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" He was formerly an instructor and director for U. S. International University's School of Performing Arts.

The unit setting and Elizabethan period costumes were designed by Peggy Kellner, theatre art director. Lighting was designed by John McLain. Mime sequences were created by Don McLeod.

Joel Story and Paul Perkins play the title role characters in "Rosencrantz and Guildenstein Are Dead." They are both making their first Old Globe Theatre appearances.

Monarch Baseballers Slip By Granite Hills

By Tom Blattler

Led by the hitting of Murray Woods and the pitching of Rick Baker, the Monte Vista Monarch baseball squad slipped by the Granite Hills Eagles, 3-2, in a contest played at the Eagles' home diamond.

Woods, a senior second baseman, was barely hitting over .200 entering the game, but came through with two hits in two at bats and drove in all of the Monarch runs. Murray connected on a single, a triple, and a sacrifice fly which drove in a run.

Baker, a junior southpaw, went the distance for the Monarchs, as he struck out five, gave up six hits, and did not walk a batter. The two runs that Rick gave up were both unearned, so he now has pitched 38 innings and given up but one earned run. Baker has given up 27 hits, struck out 36 batters, and walked 12, with an astonishing earned run average of 0.18, one of the lowest in Grossmont League history.

With his unbelievable ERA, Rick has only four wins against one loss this season, with the major reason being the fact that his teammates have committed frequent errors behind him.

The Monte Vista team will be traveling to the field of the Grossmont Foothillers tomorrow afternoon starting at 3 p.m.

Duffers Top Matadors

Led by captain Bob Gossett, the Monte Vista golf team remained undefeated in the Grossmont League by ripping the Mt. Miguel Matadors, 195-215, last Friday at the Matadors' home course.

Gossett, who is only a junior, took the medalist honors with a blistering 35 for nine holes. The Monarchs' Tom Hardebeck, also a junior, was second with an excellent 39. Sophomore Mike Wright and freshman Dave Watson each carded 40's to help the Monte Vista duffers score their easy victory.

Highlanders Shock Mt. Miguel; Monarchy Loses To Foothillers

The Mt. Miguel and Monte Vista track teams had little luck last week, as Monte Vista fell to the powerful Grossmont Foothillers and the Matadors were upended by Helix.

At Grossmont, the Foothillers swept the 100-yard dash and won 11 events while Monte Vista could earn but four first places. The 'Hillers took the meet by the lop-sided score of 96-40.

For Monte Vista, Paul Blair won the 880 in pretty good time, while Gary Close won a pressured two-mile. Blair stopped the watches at 2:02.5 in the half, while Close posted an excellent 9:36.3 time in the two-mile.

The top scorer in the meet was 'Hiller Mike Manzer, who won the 100 and 220, took top honors in the long jump, and ran a leg on the winning 440-yard relay team.

At Helix, Mt. Miguel was involved in a fierce battle with the upstart Highlanders, who won two crucial events to take the victory, 74-62.

The sprint events went pretty much as expected, with Brian Parchman posting the league's best mark of 22.5 in the 220 to keep the score close after a Helix sweep in the 100.

In the 440, Gary Trask blistered the oval for a 50.8 clocking and Parchman took second place. Trask won again in the 880, although his time of 2:04.1 was slow. Bob Morrison sprinted away from the field to win the mile in good time of 4:28.5.

Mt. Miguel picked up victories in the long jump and shot put, as expected, and Helix claimed most of the other events, with Mt. Miguel depth keeping the local team in the battle all afternoon.

The two events which ended up costing Mt. Miguel the meet were the two-mile and the high jump.

Joe Stubbs, who has run under 9:30 for Mt. Miguel, and Rick Debus, who has turned in better times than 9:35, just didn't have what it took Friday and both ran over 9:45 to take second and third place.

Had the pair run up to their capabilities, Mt. Miguel would have had five more points from the event.

In the high jump, Matador Greg Merriam holds the school record of 6-4, but his performance Friday netted him but third place. A jump of 6-1 would have given him first place and four more Mt. Miguel points.

Had the two-mile and high jump gone as expected, Mt. Miguel would have had up to nine points more, which would have given the Matadors a 71-65 victory.

Despite losing the meet, Mt. Miguel managed to turn in some fine performances, including Trask's 440, Parchman's 220, Morrison's mile, and the mile relay team's excellent clocking of 3:28.6, which is tops in the league this season. Members of the team were Trask, Parchman, Morrison, and Paul Guynn.

Osuna Eyes Position Of County Clerk

Jesse Osuna, County Clerk, announced his candidacy for the position to which he was appointed in February by Board of Supervisors.

Osuna, 53, became the acting County Clerk Oct. 18, 1971 when R. B. "Bud" James, then County Clerk became Law and Justice Coordinator. Osuna, an attorney, was one of many applicants who were screened for the position by the supervisors.

Osuna, born in Mazatlan, Mexico came to the U. S. as a youngster and attended the old Franklin School, opposite the Federal Courthouse on Union st. He studied at S.D. State before serving in the Army in World World II and later the Korean War.

Osuna became a commissioned officer and was appointed Trial Judge Advocate and sat as a member of Court-Martial Boards. Presently he holds Reserve Rank of Major.

Osuna served as Acting Clerk, Oceanside Municipal Court for seven months in 1953, supervising the civil, criminal and traffic court activities of the Court's clerical staff.

During 1954 and 1957, he was Chief of Probate and examined thousands of matters for the Probate Court, and acquired an expertise in this specialized field. He assisted Judge L. N. Turrentine in writing the first Continuing Education of the Bar Book on Probate Practice, and also assisted in preparing a Probate Manual for local attorneys.

He became Chief, Civil Division, County Clerk, in 1957 and subsequently became Supervising Deputy County Clerk.

He was appointed Chief Deputy County Clerk in 1967 and conducted seminars for attorneys, legal secretaries and other groups.

Osuna is a member of the Superior Court, the Municipal Court and the Legislation Committees.

He is a member of the Advisory Board and a member of the faculty at Western State U. College of Law, presently teaching equity.

Currently, Osuna is heading a group of predominately Spanish speaking businessmen who are organizing a Federal Savings and Loan Association here.

Other activities include the YMCA, Toastmasters and Lions International. He is a director of the YMCA and the Boy Scouts.

He is past commander of the Fighting Bob Evans Post of the American Legion. He is also chairman of the Selective Service Board No. 140.

WINNER — Bob Morrison, ace Mt. Miguel miler, takes the tape at the end of the race in track meet Friday at Helix High School. Morrison won his race in the excellent time of 4:28.5, but Mt. Miguel lost the meet to the surprising Highlanders, 74-62, in a tight battle.

Stroh's Tops Boosters To Open S.V. 'Sox Season

The Spring Valley Bobby Sox League opened the season Saturday at Bancroft Elementary School with eight major league teams and four minor league teams seeing action.

The first games of the year were held in conjunction with opening day ceremonies at the Bobby Sox field and prizes, including an automobile from Robin Hood Auto Sales, were given away.

In the first game of the day, Stroh's Lomita Bowl got a jump on the other teams with a 23-10 blasting of the Spring Valley Boosters. Spring Valley Boosters. Stroh' Stroh's collected sixteen hits in the affair, including a triple by Brenda Morris. The Boosters hit six safeties, including Linda Seal's triple.

The second game was a pitcher's duel won by Tami Ribby and her Easter Plumbing teammates, 12-4. Miss Ribby tossed a no-hitter, but was hampered by control problems, giving up 15 walks. Debbye Whitley, hurling for Speedy 7-11/Mac's Drive In, nearly matched her opponent's performance, giving up but one hit — a triple by Cheryl Connolly — and walking eight batters. 7-11/Mac's, however, was plagued by errors which enabled Easter to notch the win.

In other major league games, S.V. Woman's Club pounded Sportland, 12-6, while Delp Plastering squeezed by Wilford Financial Center, 5-3. In the minor league contests, Brona Bird Farm knocked off Pal's Cafe, 12-8, and Robin Hood Auto Sales established itself as the team to beat with a 20-1 clout over the Blue Belles.

Water District Smokes Out Illegal Connections

Illegal sewer connections in the Otay Municipal Water District are being smoked out literally by water district workers.

The smoke-out process consists of igniting a couple of smoke bobs in a bucket which is lowered into a sewer manhole. The manhole cover is then replaced by an apparatus which blows the smoke throughout the sewer system.

The workers then watch the smoke come out of various vents in the system. If smoke is seen coming from a vent in a house that isn't supposed to be connected to the line, then the district has caught a violator.

About 12 percent of the district's sewer lines has been smoked out in the three months that the program has been in operation.

No violators have been caught yet, but the smoke-out is also useful in determining leaks in the sewer lines and clogged vents.

Illegal sewer connections have not been a great problem to the district, although the problem of water stealing has been. The fee for installing a sewer connection to Otay District lines is about $50 and a semi-monthly fee of $7.50 is also levied, which means that illegal sewer connections are not as expensive as illegal water supply connections.

The Otay District has determined that 25 such illegal water connections have been discovered.

A major problem with using the smoke-out system is that sometimes residents of houses in the area see the smoke and phone the fire department, The system is also useless in water supply cases, because water is piped under pressure and smoke can't be blown through the lines.

Sumner Names 3 To Campaign Staff

Bill Brink, a present member of the Republican Central Committee and a former candidate for Wadie Deddeh's State Assembly seat, has accepted the post of the Good Government Committee to Elect Bill Sumner. Brink, who lives in Jamul, said he had intended entering the Second District race but decided to give his support to Sumner instead.

Charles E. Brown, of Santee, was named Lakeside, Santee chairman.

Terry O'Donnell, a 22-year old member of California Young Republicans, was named Field and Research director.

'La Dolce Vita' To Be Screened This Afternoon

Grossmont College's Office of Community Services will continue its Spring Film Forum Series when Federico Fellini's "La Dolce Vita" is screened at 2 p.m., this afternoon in the Fine Arts Lecture Hall, Room 220.

"La Dolce Vita," or, translated, "The Sweet Life," is Fellini's thirteenth film and is probably the most talked about and controversial European film in many years. In production more than a year, it cost $1 million, a large budget for any European film.

It is, in essence, an analysis of one side of contemporary Roman life told in a number of sequences through the experiences of a cynical, yet naive, journalist. On a broader scale it lays open a whole swath of society, exposing the decay and tragedy of over-civilization.

Starring Anita Ekberg, Marcello Mastrioianni, Anouk Aimee and Nadia Gray, "La Dolce Vita" received the Cannes Film Festival Award, Joseph Burstyn Award and New York Film Critics Award as the Best Film of the Year in addition to being on the "Ten Best" list of major reviewers.

The public is invited to see the film, and there is no charge for admission.

$5,000 John Hadl Scholarships Won By Five High School Seniors

Each of five San Diego high school seniors were awarded $5,000 John Hadl scholarships Friday night at a banquet at Atlantis restaurant. John Hadl made the presentations.

The contest was sponsored by Vitalis, a hair grooming preparation manufacturer which not only provided the funds for the scholarships but also hosted a reception and banquet attended by about 150 newsmen and a handful of athletes and civic dignitaries. Parents of the scholars were also guests.

The five scholarship winners were: Douglas Freeman, a Pala Indian of Fallbrook; Patrick Gregston, of Crawford, who is the son of Gene Gregston, editor of the San Diego Union; Philip Lorang, St. Augustine; Gerald Miller, Clairemont, and James Poncheti, a Santa Ysabel reservation Indian.

After the awards, much of the attention was focused on John Hadl. "Everybody needles me about my hair," laughed Hadl who is balding. "I'm not a very good ad for Vitalis." But nobody needled him about his accomplishments. He was last year's MVP and was chosen by the nation's fans as "Man of the Year" from a list of 78 eligible pro football players.

Among those who spoke of his stellar qualities were San Diego Mayor Pete Wilson, Charger owner Gene Klein, Charger Coach Harlan Svare, Bob Bliss, of the National Scholarship Foundation, and George Hall, Hall of Fame archivist. The scholarships are being administered by the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio.

The two Indian scholarship winners were chosen from 5,000 eligible young men of San Diego's Indian community, it was announced.

Judge Levitt Tabbed On 'Freedom' Program

A change has been announced in the speaker schedule for the San Diego Kiwanis' Twelfth Annual Pillars of American Freedom.

Judge Jack R. Levitt will replace scheduled opening speaker Minos D. Generales. Generales became ill this week and will be unable to participate in the Tuesday segment of the series.

Levitt, who was recently appointed to the Superior Court, is a former partner in the San Diego law firm of Enright, Levitt, Knutson & Tobin. His topic will be "Freedom in Our Changing World — The Challenge to the Law."

The remainder of the Pillars schedule will be unchanged. Following Levitt will be: Mayor Pete Wilson, "The Challenge to Government," April 25; Gen. Victor H. Krulak, USMC, (Ret.), "The Challenge in Communication," May 2; Carl Terzian, "The Challenge to the American Ideal," May 9.

All Pillars programs will begin at noon in the International Room of the El Cortez Convention Center. Series ticket price, including luncheon, is $16. Tickets are also available for individual programs.

Phyllis Schafly To Speak in La Mesa

Phyllis Schlafly, author and expert on nuclear strategy, will be guest speaker Tuesday noon, in the Bronze Room, 8998 La Mesa blvd., La Mesa. Proceeds from the event will go to the Ashbrook for President Commietee, San Diego County.

Mrs. Schlafly's first book "A Choice Not an Echo" sold three million copies in 1964 without benefit of a single advertisement. She is also co-author of three bestselling books on national defense titled "The Gravediggers," "Strike from Space," and "The Betrayers." She was a delegate to three Republican National Conventions and three times elected president of the Illinois Federation of Republican Women. In 1964 she was unanimously elected first vice president of the National Federation of Republican Women.

General chairman of the luncheon is Mrs. George Dunklee, 444-0461. Tickets to the event may be obtained by writing Ashbrook for President Committee, San Diego County, P.O. Box 2728, La Mesa, 92041.

Law Week Speakers Available for Groups

Books are brisk for attorney speakers during the San Diego County Bar Association's observance of Law Week, according to Glenn M. Mitchell, Law Week speakers bureau co-chairman.

Attorneys are available to speak to schools, service organizations and other groups from April 24-28 as part of the association's annual activities in celebration of the institution of the law.

Topics to be discussed include youth and the law, property rights, wills, military law, traffic violations, drug laws and legal careers.

"Our committee of Navy and civilian attorneys and the association's Youth and Law Committee are coordinating efforts on this 200-man bureau in keeping with the spirit of a combined civilian and military observance of Law Week," Capt. Larry Benrubi, speakers bureau co-chairman, said.

Mobilehome Tax Relief

SACRAMENTO — Assemblyman Bob Wilon (D-San Diego) has introduced a measure explicitly exempting mobilehome owners from property taxes.

Wilson's legislation is in response to a move by the Los Angeles County Tax Assessor to classify all mobilehomes as real property, thus subject to the property tax.

Prizes, Gifts, Refreshments Scheduled As S.D. Trust & Savings Opens Bank No. 18

Lemon Grove's newest bank — San Diego Trust and Savings — opens Wednesday.

It is located at 7155 Broadway just west of Massachusetss in the Alpha Beta shopping center area.

The Lemon Grove office will be the 18th facility serving San Diego, according to Thomas W. Sefton, president of the financial institution.

A Grand Opening Celebration will spread over a four-day period with gifts, prizes and refreshments. Banking hours during the celebration will be 10 a.m.-5 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday; 10 a.m.-8 p.m. Friday, and 10 a.m.-3 p.m. Saturday.

One of the opening attractions will be a Treasure Chest. The chest will be activated by a certain combination of punched holes in an electronic data processing card available at the Office. The cards are inserted in the front of the chest. If that card is one of the winners, sirens and bells go off simultaneously as the chest opens, revealing an assortment of prizes. Winners will have a choice of thermal blanket, travel alarm clock, camping lantern, or ceramic Happy bank. The same prizes are available to anyone opening a checking or savings account during the celebration with a minimum deposit of $100.

The newest San Diego Trust office combines the latest features in customer convenience according to Charles L. Foster, Assistant Vice President and Manager. The three station drive-in facility operates on a pneumatic tube principle, allowing tellers to service several customers simultaneously, with visual contact and private two-way communication. The drive-up will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and until 6 p.m. Friday. The office lobby is designed to accommodate Speedline, the one line system that allows customers to reach the next available teller, providing faster service with more privacy.

Separate areas are provided for the Exchange and Collections, Customer Service, and Safe Deposit departments.

3,000 Attend Easter Service

Easter Sunday at Mt. Miguel rang to the sounds of the choir and spiritual message of Pastor Orval Butcher of Skyline Wesleyan Church. Backed by hand-painted interpretations of the Last Supper, the last night, the crucifixion and the resurrection of Christ brushed by Rusty Phillips, church custodian, the celebration included some 3,000 people.

Feedback from the National Association of Evangelicals convention in St. Louis, will be heard at the service on April 16 when Butcher speaks on "The Evangelical".

Students Win Honors

Two Central College students won excellent awards in the recent Pi Kappa Delta Tri-Province Convention and Tournament at Lake of the Ozarks, Mo.

Competing with students from 41 colleges and universities, Marc Richard, of Lemon Grove, sophomore, was honored for after dinner speaking, and Diane Vass, Bloomfield, Iowa junior, for oral interpretation.

They were accompanied to the event by Bette L. Brunsting, Central's director of forensics.

Highway 94 Widening

The funds required to pay all the costs of a state highway improvement project by the California Division of Highways have been allocated by the California Highway Commission.

A short section of Route 94 near the Campo rd. interchange will be widened from two to four lanes. The two lane section connects into two freeways and when traffic is heavy the two lane section becomes a bottleneck.

The estimated cost of the work is $40,000 and will be paid entirely from Division funds.

L.G. Club Owner Sues Sheriff For Nude Dancing Permit

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — The operator of a Lemon Grove night club, who last year won a legal fight to allow nude dancing in his establishment, filed suit Tuesday in Superior Court to force the county to grant him a license for his enterprise.

James F. LaFreniere is asking that Sheriff John Duffy be required under a writ of mandate to issue a license for the Naughty Spot, at 7268 Broadway, Lemon Grove.

LaFreniere attained some local fame last year, when the sheriff's department closed down his night club and cited his star, Christine Ann Byerly, 22, for her nude dancing.

In an action to re-open the place, Judge Franklin B. Orfield ruled that the county's ordinance was "so broad as to prohibit any and all nude activity anywhere" in a public place. He issued an injunction against interference with the Naughty Spot.

The present legal action is to force issuance of a new theatre license, being held up by the sheriff's office on the grounds there is "reasonable cause to question true ownership" of the Naughty Spot. LaFreniere's suit calls this "an arbitrary form of censorship".

Rain is Little; Fire Hazard Grows

If you looked closely you might have seen the rain — all .03 inches of it. It fell Wednesday to bring the season's total to 4.52 inches.

Last year at this time the total had reached 8.15.

Rainfall seasons are from July 1 each year.

The local fire department urges residents to remove weeds and other unwatered growth now because the most hazardous fire season in recent history appears likely.
